Source: Date:

yorkpress.co.uk Monday 9, February 2015

Keyword: The Montcalm

Why is Bez from the Happy Mondays spending a week in bed? Why is Bez from the Happy Mondays spending a week in bed?. First published in

Why is Bez from the Happy Mondays spending a week in bed?. First published in National Entertainment News © by Press Association 2014

It might not have quite the glamour of John and Yoko, but Bez and his girlfriend Firouzeh Razavi are spending seven days tucked up in bed to protest against fracking.

Bez, who is used to being watched while he sleeps having won Celebrity Big Brother back in 2005, begins his vigil tonight at the Montcalm Hotel in London and won't emerge until next Monday.

"Where John Lennon and Yoko Ono holed up for a week in the Presidential Suite at the Hilton Hotel Amsterdam in Manhattan for their 'Bed-in for Peace' on March 25, 1969, Firouzeh and I are compelled to do our 'Bed-in against Fracking' which has been thrust upon us all undemocratically," says Bez.

Bez in bed (Dominic Lipinski/PA)

The former Happy Mondays star formed the Reality Party last year, intending to stand at the General Election in Salford and Eccles.

However, the maraca-wielding dancer hit an early snag – his party was deregistered by the Electoral Commission because its name was too similar to the Realists' Party.

Things going really well, press queuing as Bez gets the anti fracking message out. #BezinBed # pic.twitter.com/HkBebT3i3Q

— The Reality Party (@Reality_Party) February 9, 2015

You can check out all the inaction at bezinbed.co.uk

http://ct.moreover.com/?a=20399217286&p=1l9&v=1&x=eb5m_eO21zbc-bvoun3Uy Q

Reproduced by Gorkana under licence from the NLA (newspapers), CLA (magazines), FT (Financial Times/ft.com) or other copyright owner. No further copying (including printing of digital cuttings), digital reproduction/forwarding of the cutting is permitted except under licence from the copyright owner. All FT content is copyright The Financial Times Ltd.

Article Page 1 of 1